My Two small businesses:

Luminous Beauty & Flex_Fit active wear.

Luminous Beauty is a makeup business that started in 2016. From an young age, I have always been someone who carried lipstick and eyeshadow in my bag. I believe my love for makeup continued to grow, and I eventually started investing in my craft.

I began by creating makeup looks on myself, which eventually led to me gaining customers. That is how the business grew into what it is today.

Flex Fit is a business that is close to my heart. It started two years ago and is a business I never imagined I would start. After being overweight and feeling uncomfortable in my body, I decided to start going to the gym and eventually lost about 15 kg.

While searching for gym wear, I realised that activewear was often expensive and out of my reach. I started researching affordable activewear options and eventually sourced my stock from Dragon City, allowing me to sell quality gym wear at more affordable prices. I was extremely impressed by the support I received and realised that many other people were also affected by the high prices of activewear.

The reason I chose these businesses and want to create a website for them is because they are my own businesses, and I believe that creating a website would be a valuable investment in their growth and success.
